Purpose

The purpose of the organisation of a World Mental Health Day in Geneva is to promote, to make aware and to sensitise the UN community, Permanent Missions, NGOs and all who are involved in policy making of the importance of mental health and to realise that there is still a devastating stigma in that field.

Background

The Brothers of Charity (www.brothersofcharity.org) are pioneers in the field of mental health since 1815. They started in Belgium with mental health services and now the Brothers of Charity are in 30 countries with more than 150 projects in the field of mental health, education and disability care.

Dr. Guislain Award

Fracarita International organises the campaign '200 years breaking the chains of stigma in mental health' since 2012. In that perspective, Fracarita International collaborates with the Dr. Guislain Museum on an International Award (www.drguislainaward.org). People, organisations or projects all over the world that have made an exceptional contribution in dealing with, or promoting the attention for, mental health care are eligible to receive the Dr. Guislain Award. The intention of this international prize is to reward initiatives that approach people suffering from a mental illness as cultural, creative and social beings. It is aimed at social and/or cultural initiatives that deal with mental health care in a scientific, clear and dynamic way. Initiatives that promote the creativity of those suffering from mental illness, including the prevention of social exclusion by questioning the boundary between normal and abnormal behavior in its social context. This concerns initiatives which emphasise the dignity of sufferers in a passionate, creative and innovative way. In other words, initiatives that focus on the abilities rather than on the shortcomings of the mentally ill.

World Mental Health Days

Fracarita International organised different World Mental Health Days in New York, Ghent and in Mumbai. This year, Fracarita International in collaboration with the World Council of Churches, want to organise also a day in Geneva, as we want to be more involved in the Geneva Advocacy to the UN.

Fracarita International proposes to organise this event together with the World Council of Churches, the Permanent Mission of Belgium, the World Health Organization and with Fondation d' Harcourt. Follow-up should lead to more knowledge of each of the partners and their work.
